GERMANS TRYING TO EXPELL THE JEWS

Thirty-Five Miners Entombed In West Virginia

Hundreds of them Wounded Fleeing From A Mad Mob

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Anti-Jewish riots which threaten to develop into an actual program raged throughout the city. Police reports said that more than one hundred individual shops were plundered. Hundreds of Jews, many wounded, fled from the city. A mad rush of refugees continued before attacks of the mob.

Simmons Faction Of Klan Charge Fox With Designs Against Several Others

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—Phillip Fox, slayer of W. S. Coburn, planned to kill all other leaders of the insurgent faction, including Emperor Simmons, authorities are informed. Dr. Johnston, of the Simmons' faction, said Fox told him at Simmons' home: "You, Simmons, E. Y. Clark, and Bill Coburn, are slated to go. Johnston said when Fox drew a gun on him he backed him into a corner and disarmed him, later returning Fox's gun.

Many shots were fired in Coburn's office, office attaches stated, and two men detained Fox until the police arrived. When Fox learned that Coburn was dead he said: "I'm glad," according to George W. Allen, one of his captors. "He was going to publish reports about me that would ruin me. If I hadn't got him he would have ruined me," Fox told his captors.

Dr. Johnston said when Fox called at Simmons' home Simmons was not there.

Fox told Johnston he had information to tear up the Dallas Klan. Fox charged that H. K. Ramsey, imperial kleagle was "without intelligence," and was trying to "get" George K. Butcher, Dallas leader. He also launched into a tirade against Imperial Wizard Evans, according to Johnston.

TOM CONNALLY TO REPRESENT T. U.

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 6—At the invitation of the President of George Washington University to be held in Washington, D. C. on November 9, the University of Texas will be represented by Tom Connally, an alumnus of the University and congressman from the eleventh Texas district. He was graduated from the University with the bachelor of arts degree and from the University of Texas with the bachelor of laws degree.

Mrs. Lincoln B. Bishop, of Massachusetts, is the newly elected President of the American Legion Auxiliary. She was elected at the San Francisco Convention.

Bulgaria Will Apologize And Salute the Flag

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Bulgaria will accept Jugo Slavian demands for full apoligies for an attack on Jugo Slavia's military attache by three unknown armed men at Sofia, dispatches said. The attache was slightly wounded.

Tom Nolan is a Corsicana visitor today.

GERMAN UNEMPLOYED RIOT IN BERLIN.

Bread shops and food centers are being seized by the unemployed throughout Germany, while the country seems entirely in the grip of the separatist movement. The above photograph shows the police trying to hold back the mobs in the Shroenberg section of Berlin, where the rioters looted food shops.

Walton Invokes Federal Court Under Fourteenth Amendment Hearing Is Set For Tomorrow

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 6.—Governor Walton carried his case to the Federal Court when he filed a petition alleging a conspiracy to oust him as governor, and asking a restraining order against the House. He alleged that he is being deprived of rights provided under the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution. The hearing is set for tomorrow.

THE WEATHER

East Texas—Tonight and Wednesday fair, frost, except in the lower Rio Grande valley; warmer Wednesday.

West Texas—Tonight and Wednesday fair with frost; Wednesday warmer.

Twenty Five Miners Rescued Fate of Others is Uncertain

BECKLEY, W. Va., Nov. 6.—An explosion of undetermined origin entombed more than thirty five miners in the Glen Rogers coal mine of Raleigh, Wyoming company.

Approximately seventy five men were under ground when the blast occurred. Twenty-five have been brought out unhurt. The fate of the others is in doubt.

Debris blocking the mine tunnels is hindering rescue workers.

Later: Twelve more bodies have been recovered. Grave fears are felt for the safety of the others.

Germans Plead Germans Not To Fight Themselves

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—"Germans must not fight Germans," was the plea of a Government proclamation issued Monday as growing monarchist revolutionary bands threatened civil war.

Urging all classes to unite in defense of the Republic, the Government warned that any attempt to overthrow the Republic would be rigorously suppressed.

Efforts to establish an "unconstitutional regime" would nullify efforts of outside nations to aid Germany, the appeal declared.

Alberta Returns To Wet Ranks By 40,000 Votes

CALGARY, Alberta, Nov. 6.—Alberta voted wet, according to tabulations of yesterday's election on the wet and dry issue. The province has been dry for seven years. Returns indicate that a clause calling for government control of liquor sales will carry by a majority of between thirty-five and forty thousand.

Germans Reported Secretly Arming

France Objects To Crown Prince Living in Germ'y

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare has approved a suggestion of Great Britain that the allies make a joint representation to Holland to prevent former Crown Prince Frederick William from leaving Holland for Germany. Lord Crewe, the British Ambassador, communicated the suggestion to M. Poincare this afternoon.

According to a semi-official source, Lord Crewe also impressed upon M. Poincare the necessity of instructing all French officials in the Rhineland to maintain strict neutrality toward the separatists.

FOUND VICTIMS OF THE DEARBORN MASSACRE

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Skeletons of two Indians were uncovered here by workmen digging on the spot of the historic Fort Dearborn massacre.

When the excavators were about ten feet below the surface a workman's shovel struck one of the skeletons, which was first thought to be bones of some animal.

M. G. Chandler, member of the Chicago Historical Society, was called and asserted the remains were of Indians, because of the prominent bones above the cheeks and eyes, characteristic of the red man.

"The skeletons looked to have been buried for about a century," Chandler said.

That the two Indians were killed during the Fort Dearborn massacre is the opinion of Chandler.

10½ TO 1 AGAINST FORD

NEW YORK.—A Board Street brokerage concern has announced the placing of a large bet at odds of 1 to 10½ that Henry Ford will be the next President of the United States. The manufacturer's backers placed $38,000, in the form of an insurance policy, on his favorite, thus standing to win $10,000 if his prediction comes true.

Poincare Demands Resumption Interallied Military Control

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare has sent a note on behalf of France and the allies to Germany demanding that she take steps to permit a resumption of interallied military control. He insisted on a reply before the week end. The sending of the note followed Poincare's statements that he had evidence that Germany is secretly arming herself.

Coolidge Issues Thanksgiving Proclamation Nov. 29

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge issued Thanksgiving Day Proclamation, designating Thursday, November 29th as a National Day of Prayer and Thanksgiving.

Coolidge Satisfied With Negotiations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—American government does not feel discouraged over the present trend of negotiations to bring about an ecomic conference on German's capacity to pay, it was stated on Coolidge's behalf at the the White House.

RACCOON PIE THIEF

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y.—A group of boy campers at Eagle Lake returned to camp recently, hungry as wolves, to find that a large apple pie sent from one of their homes had disappeared.

There was, however, a plain trail of pie juice leading into the wood. Just out of the clearing the boys came upon their treasure, or what was left of it. The thief was a large raccoon, who reluctantly left the feast he had stolen, and disappeared in the brush.

Hugh Freeman is on his vacation, visiting his brother, Lee Freeman, in the Rio Grande valley.

INCREASE IN POPULARITY IS BRINGING FARMING BACK TO NORMALITY

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 6.—Agriculture is returning to normality through the steady increase in population and stabilizing of conditions in general, according to reports recently completed by the Institute for Research in Land Economics here, based upon statistics of agricultural production in the United States.

Agricultural production in this country has not decreased in the last decade despite the decline in the number of acres in agricultural sections of the United States, the study of land utilization shows. Only about one-half of the land is in farms and the total farm area increased only approximately 9 per cent. from 1910 to 1920, while the population increased 15 per cent. during the same period.

The increase in farm area was largely in the semi-arid States, where acres are plentiful but the productivity per acre is small. There were fewer acres in farms in 1920 than in 1910 in many of the States in the corn belt and in practically all the States east of the Mississippi. This decrease is of particular significance, the report states, because it took place in the truly agricultural States of the union.

Growth of Cities

Part of the decrease is accounted for by errors in enumeration and in the South to the failure to include woodland as a part of the farm area. The growth of cities, development of our factories, industries, mining, and the increase in highways and railroads accounted for part of it.

Part of the decline in farm area was due to the war. The high wages in industry and the men called to the colors lead to a shortage of labor which caused parts of farms to be permitted to revert to pasture or woodland and to the abandonment even of entire farms. This was a temporary change in utilization which will be righted as soon as prices for agricultural products are favorable to the expansion of agriculture, Dr. C. S. Wehrwein, who compiled the report states.

More significant is the permanent reversion of farm land to forest and brush because it was not fit for agriculture. Throughout the astern section land has gone back to a more economical use.

Examining the utilization of land within farms the census figures reveal an increase of 5.5 per cent. in the area of improved land but an increase of 36 per cent in the area of unimproved land. The increase in the area of unimproved land in acres is almost equal to the increase in all farm land. The largest increase in the area of unimproved land was in the semi-arid region, where most of the land is grazing land. Generally where farm land as a whole decreased unimproved land was also decreased. However, in twelve States where there was a decrease in all farm land, unimproved land increased. This indicates a change in utilization at the expense of improved land and woodland.

Waiting for Prices

These twelve States all lie in the corn belt and in the East. Just as some farms have reverted to forest land some fields went back to pasture or woodland and will remain there until prices of agricultural products warrant a higher utilization of them.

Woodland for the whole United States decreased by 12 per cent and was fairly general throughout the country. Where there was area decline and not a mere error of enumeration, this decrease is significant because woodland is a higher form of utilization than unimproved land.

Through the area in farm crops increased, it was at theexpense of improved pasture land and fallow land, under the spur of war conditions. The significant fact is that production has been maintained and even increased by the more intensive utilization of the better lands and a less intensive use of the poorer lands.

Secretary Ben Stollenwerck of the Chamber of Commerce is with the Mexia delegation in Corsicana today.

Three Coal Miners Killed In Oklahoma Mine Accident

MIAMI, Okla., Nov. 6.—Three coal miners were killed and a fourth was injured when a lift dropped in the Lucky Bill mine. The accident was due to faulty hoisting mechanism.

Mexican Floods Cost 100 Lives

PUEBLA, Mexico, Nov. 6.—Meager reports received here over crippled telegraph and telephone wires indicate that probably 100 people have lost their lives in floods in the south of Mexico.

Torrential rains caused the floods. Damage is heaviest in the Mexteca Alta region of the State of Oaxaca and the Mixteca Baja region of the State of Puebla.

Late reports indicate that some small hamlets have been entirely washed away, farms have been destroyed and many people are homeless.

Sold U. S. Hospital by Alleged "Pull"

Additional sensations were created in the Senate investigation, in Washington, into the affairs of the United States Veterans' Bureau during the administration of Colonel Forbes. E. L. Morse, Republican political leader in Missouri, it was alleged, cleared nearly $100,000 on the sale of his home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., as a site for an army hospital for tubercular patients. The place had previously been rejected as unfit for hospital purposes, but alleged "pull" was exerted, according to the charges, in order that Morse might reap the benefits of the sale.

WORKING HIS WAY THROUGH!

Years ago the chap who worked his way through college was considered a sort of seven days' wonder. The fact that he shook down a furnace at night to pay for his room rent gave him in the eyes of the world a standing similar to that which a presidential candidate used to acquire by having been born in a log cabin. If in addition to his evening's performance at the furnace he waited on table at a student boarding house for his meals, it was admitted that some day this young man would get into the president's cabinet. That, however, was before table-waiting and furnace-shaking became so popular among college students as these honest and lowly endeavors are today.

The point is that if any young man or woman considers a college education of sufficient value to be willing to put in anywhere from one to four hours a day at remunerative work to help pay college expenses, there isn't the least doubt in the world that such a student will appreciate his college work. For it is as true of education as of anything else in the world that we value most whatever has taken us some little effort to acquire.

OUR WINTER

"What sort of a winter are we going to have?" the average family man is asking anxiously, mindful of shoes, clothes and other necessities. Nature is said to be the best weather prophet and if this holds true the outlook for Mr. Average Householder is said indeed, for a long, hard winter lies before us. Note the following signs and prepare accordingly:

Fur on wild and domestic animals is unusually heavy; ants have gathered their winter supply of food early and stored it far below the surface of the ground; cockle burs filled out and ripened early; corn husks are extremely thick; nuts and acorns are plentiful and are being stored unusually early by squirrels, chipmunks, jays and woodpeckers; wild geese have big bones and heavy feathers; woman—lovely but irrational woman—is wearing her waist lower and has discarded the heavy furs she has been wearing all summer.

So there is no joy in the average home for weather wise folk all agree that the prospects are for a "real, old-fashioned winter."

INTOLERABLE

Intolerance did not depart with the Dark Ages nor is it unknown in enlightened America. The American people, however much they hate to or refuse to admit it, are intolerant in matters of opinion and belief. Persons in disagreement even on a subject most impersonal and trival are inspired with a bitter hatred and irritation with one another because of the disagreement.

Americans with opinions running counter to each other are irreconcilable. They have not learned the art and lesson of tolerance, so when a neighbor, an editor, a public speaker, or anyone, for that matter, expresses a thought or a belief opposed to their own there arises at once a dislike for that person which stops nowhere less than with a vitrioloc derision of personalities and personal opinions. To be sure, people are not burned at the stake for their opinions in this enlightened age, but it cannot be denied opinions have been the provocation for modern murders and that many opinions and their advocates are burned at the stake every day in the minds of the intolerant multitude.

Humanity has not yet acquired that felicity and happy attitude of looking at ideas disinterestedly, detachedly. Viewpoints are no object. The other man's opinions are worthless, fallacious, unless they tally with the accepted. Arguments today are never interestingly pugnacious until there is disagreement because every man likes to know that his fellow has the same slant on the subject as he and nobody will admit himself in the wrong. Intolerance is childish and the mark of illiteracy. It is compatible with religious wars and tyranny.

No intelligent person should be afraid of the truth, and the man or woman who is fearful lest another's opinions may differ, and rightfully, with their own should be soaring in the expression of opinions. The truly receptive mind will discard like an old garment all ideas, no matter how revered and sacred, should they be found obsolete or erroneous and accept the new and proven without mud-throwing and mouth-frothing.

The devouring fire of bigoted and intolerant public opinion has raised more martyrs to thought and truth than the stage and faggot.

FOOTBALL LEADS IN SPORTSMANSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Sportsmanship is not confined to any particular line of activity on the field. Ethics of some sports are considered higher and are more generally respected and observed than in others.

Tennis, polo and golf, the more fashionable sports, are generally looked upon as those sports in which the competitor always grants the advantage of the doubt to his opponent.

Baseball permits judgement on only two doubts—in case of a question give the batter a hit instead of an error to the fielder and in a close decision on the bases favor the runner.

Ethics are carried to extremes in some sports. Bill Tilden, as the leader of tennis, went so far in being a sport that he tossed away a whole set in the recent Davis Cup matches to Jim Anderson because Tilden thought he had been given a break by a bad decision of a line judge.

For all around sportsmanship, for the general prevalence of "square deal" and gentlemanly conduct, collegiate football will rank with any of the popular American sports.

Little contrasts cropping out from time to time make some other sports suffer in comparison to the greatest of all college games.

Rowdy days are supposed to have passed in professional baseball, the so-called national pastime. There are few pitched battles on the field, instances of slugging under the grandstands are widely scattered since the type of players engaged in the game began to be elevated, but the spirit back of the players still carries a little of the old flavor.

"We'll cut that bird down if we get a chance," one of the Giant players said during the world's series about Babe Ruth.

Ruth, the Yankee star, had been charged by the Giants with going into the bases with his feet up. In baseball that is considered an overt act.

The Babe was not "cut down" during the series. Perhaps it was not because the chance was not afforded, because Ruth was on the bases often. It might have been that Ruth is rather large and capable with his fists and the player who resorts to "cutting down" is ordinarily not of the type that is willing "to go" in open combat.

It is not unethical in professional baseball for a competitor to take advantage of the physical weakness of an opponent. Neither is it that way in boxing. The stakes are too high in professional sports for the competitor to think of anyone but himself.

team is likely to prove far stronger than it has in October.

S. M. S.'s showing against T. C. U. is one of the high lights of the past week, especially in the fact that the team succeeded in flashing a versatile and effective offense. T. C. U. is not a set-up. The Horned Frogs themselves have little offense but they are a stubborn defensive team and the fact that the running, plunging, and passing game of S. M. U. completely bewildered the purple squad speaks volume for the efficiency of the S. M. U. offense.

Seat sale for both the Arkansas game Saturday and the Baylor game Thanksgiving began simultaneously Dallas Monday morning at the Old Mill and Rucker Drug Stores.

Sportlights

By Jimmie

Most of the upsets in dope for games in the south last Saturday were contributed to the rain and mud, practically all of the games were fought in a drizzling rain. Perhaps the most surprising was the scoreless tie of the Vanderbilt-Mississippi A. & M. game, the Commodores outplayed the Aggies but the slippery ball proved a hodo. Alabama did something unusual by fighting the Georgia Tech Yellowjackets to a scoreless tie in Atlanta. The only score in the game between the ancient rivals Auburn and the University of Georgia was made by Day of Georgia who intercepted an Auburn pass and raced sixty-five yards for a touchdown.

The Southwestern Conference field is getting smaller and smaller with every game. The only undefeated teams in the Conference now are the Longhorns, Baylor and S. M. U. Baylor has to meet both Texas and S. M. U., if she can hold her own in these two games history will repeat itself. It looks as if S. M. U. is going to give somebody a fight for the championship.

The sons of old Eli seem to be "King of the roost" in the eastern football circles. The soldiers played a great game Saturday but Yale has determined to make this a Yale year, and it will take an almost immortal team to stop them. Harvard is in about the same kind of a boat with Texas A. & M.

Coach "Doc" Stewart will load up nine of his best basketball players on December 22, and head straight for the heart of Mexico. We hope he has as much luck in this undertaking as he has with his football team.

It has ceased to be news to read of Notre Dame victory, the only question most of us ask is "how much did they beat them?"

Don Miller is making a mighty race for an All American berth this year. He has put Notre Dame where she is at this stage of the season and that is at the tip top. In Saturday's 34 to 7 victory over Perdue, Miller scored two touchdowns, made four runs better than twenty-five yards, gained fifty yards after receiving passes and made another thirty yard run after a pass but the play was not allowed. Don Miller is not the star of one game but of every game that Notre Dame has played this year.

Syracuse mounted up on the same round of the ladder with Yale and Cornell Saturday by defeating the powerful Penn State team 10 to 0. This is Penn State's first defeat this year.

Few Folks Have Gray Hair Now

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—(Adv.)

Piles Absorbed Never to Return

After years of patient, painstaking effort on the part of a well-known doctor, a prescription has been found that will actually heal Piles and absorb them never to return.

No man or woman need suffer another hour with any discomfort, pain or soreness arising from rectal troubles—Piles—now that this wonderful prescription known as MOAVA can be obtained for a moderate price at any first-class drug store on the money-back if dissatisfied plan.

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

Simply ask your druggist for a small box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES, being careful to follow the simple directions that come in each box.—(Adv.)

Tris Speaker As A Broncho Buster

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 6.—"Texas' own" Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, is not only a good ball player but he makes a regular cowby.

"Fog Horn" Clancy, famous rodeo announcer, discovered Tris at the Rodeo show at the State Fair here last week and immediately brought him out. Tris was game and after much persuasion agreed to ride the "bucking broncho."

The boys all felt friendly to Tris and trotted out one of the "outlaws." Undaunted Tris rode him and rode him well, handing a surprise to the "pick-me-up-boys" as well as the broncho.

'QUEEN TUT" TO HAVE A NEW RUSTIC HOME

FORT WORTH, exas, Nov. 6.—The city park department is nothing if not resourceful.

They are going to build "Queen Tut," the zoo elephant a house. Now as houses go the "Queen's" shack would cost about $3,000.

But thru diligent managing and conservation of building materials they have arranged to put up a house for $750. It will be rustic in design.

STIFF SCHEDULE JUST AHEAD OF S.M.U.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 6.—All set for the stiff Conference schedule ahead that includes three elevens over whom comparative scores give the Mustangs a slight edge but who upon the field are likely to prove something else again, Southern Methodist University's eleven took up Monday afternoon the task of getting past the next hard game at the Stadium. This is the Saturday tilt with the University of Arkansas, a team, already defeated by Baylor in the Conference, but with its formidable overhead game rated a dangerous threat against any of the contenders for the Southwestern Conference title.

After eliminating T. C. U. from this class Saturday, the Mustang stock rises considerably in view of the actual status of comparative scores. On this basis, the S. M. U. team should go through without a defeat for the local eleven beat Saturday the team that defeated Oklahoma A. & M., Baylor only tied the Aggies, a team already defeated by S. M. U., and Baylor has previously trimmed Arkansas.

Coaches Morrison and Freeland do not have to impress on their squad however, the gravity of next Saturday's game in spite of comparative scores. Arkansas did that for them last fall when they practically put S. M. U out of the running when the dope book recorded much the same story it does today It is true that the Razorbacks caught S. M. U. on a muddy field, but that might occur again. Besides, Arkansas is rated as a stronger eleven this season than last and here it is November when a

RADIO RECEIVING SETS

Article 2.
THREE-CIRCUIT REGENERATIVE RECEIVER

A three-circuit regenerative receiver has, as the name implies, three tuning circuits. This type of set, while somewhat harder to tune than a single-circuit regenerative receiver, has means for making it very selective Even with a fairly long antenna this feature is very effective in eliminating undesired stations under reasonable conditions.

A typical three-circuit regenerative receiver is shown in the accompanying figure. The antenna A and ground B are connected to a coil C which is used to tune the antenna circuit to approximately the wavelength of the desired signals. This coil is commonly arranged with taps to connect in the desired number of turns, and is called the primary. Sometimes a variable condenser will assist in fine tuning of this circuit if placed in series in the antenna or ground lead.

Another coil D is mounted either inside, or, as is more preferable, close to one end of coil C so as to pick up some of the energy of the primary. Coil D, called the secondary, is mounted on a rotor so that by a turning movement it is possible to vary the amount of energy picked up by the secondary coil D. In this manner the signal strength may be made as great or small as desired within reasonable limits.

The secondary coil D has a fixed number of turns. The grid circuit may be accurately tuned to the desired incoming signal by two general methods. One as by the use of a variometer E, and the other is by means of a condenser F. If either one is used the other need not be, although both may be employed. It will be found that any change produced by one may be largely compensated for by the other device. If the variometer E only is used (with condenser F and its lead wires removed from the circuit,) all of the grid circuit tuning is done by the variometer E which should have a sufficient inductance, its main property, range to cover the desired wave-length range. If it does not work satisfactorily in this respect it may help to put a 50-turn coil in series with the variometer, or to use a small fixed condenser where the variable condenser F is shown. In either case the variometer would still be the main tuning device for the grid circuit

The tuning of the secondary, or grid, circuit also may be accomplished by a variable condenser F, with the variometer E removed from the circuit. This condenser should not be too small else it will not have a great enough capacity range to cover the desired wavelength range, neither should it be too large. For accurate work it is necessary to have a vernier adjustment on this condenser, or a separate small-capacity variable condenser may be used in parallel with the main tuning condenser.

The grid condenser G and its high-resistance grid leak of 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 ohms are the same units as are usual in regenerative sets. The three-element electron tube H with its suitable battery I, and rheostat J, is any one of the standard types now available. It should be noted that the grid return goes to the positive terminal of the A battery at I, when the detector tube is one of the high-vacuum or hard type. With a soft or gassy tube the grid return should connect with the negative end, or terminal, of the A battery.

A plate variometer K is nearly always used to tune the plate circuit to resonance with the grid, or secondary, circuit. The plate circuit is the third circuit to tune, and when this condition obtains, there is a large feed-back of energy from the plate circuit to the grid circuit through the electrical capacity effect between the elements of the tube This energy will then pass through the tube in the regular fashion and be further amplified or strengthened. In the operation of the set it will be noted, that, as the plate circuit is tuned to the grid circuit, the signals keep increasing in strength. When the circuits are exactly tuned, or very nearly so, the tube will oscillate and render inaudible any incoming signal. Therefore, it is desirable to increase the feed-back effect almost, but not quite to the point where oscillations start.

The telephone receivers L should be fairly good ones for best results. If a powerful broadcasting station is nearby it is entirely possible that, with any good type of regenerative receivers, the signals will be strong enough to operate a loudspeaker fairly well. In that event the loud speaker should be connected in place of the telephone receivers. The B battery M should be about 10 to 25 volts for a soft or gassy detector tube, while 22½ to 45 volts will be necessary with the newer types of tubes. A small fixed condenser, about .01 microfarad, should be connected as shown at N to provide a path for the radio-frequency currents around the telephone receivers and B battery.

Foot Prints May Be Their Undoing

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 6.—Four plaster casts may be the mute testimony that will perhaps convict four men on charges of murder in connection with the death of Teodorma Lerma here recently.

Muddy shoes of the four men, taken from them on the day of the killing, were placed into the casts. If they fit into the footprints found near the scene of the killing, the chain of evidence against the men will be strengthened immeasurably, officers say.

Explains How Enlarged Veins Can Be Reduced

Often Times Veins Burst and Cause Much Suffering, Expense and Loss of Employment.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is very concentrated, and a bottle lasts a long time—that's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Your druggist can supply you. —(Adv.)

Ice Wago nRuns Amuck in Houston

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 6.—Three cars wrecked; several persons injured, and traffic tied up for some time,

That's what resulted when the sun got into the eyes of Azey Thomas, ice wagon pilot.

The wagon crashed into a truck, throwing the driver to the ground. The truck rammed a jitney, injuring several persons slightly.

Then it wandered on down the street, climbed the curb, and started off down the sidewalk. Pedestrains fled for safety. Finally an adventurous soul mounted the juggernaut and turned off the engine.

CITIZENS URGED TO DECORATE FOR NOV. 11TH.

The American Legion will present a splendid program Armistice Day at the Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. The 11th is Sunday. Rev. Jeffers will have charge of the singing. Hon. Charles Ingram of Wharton is the distinguished speaker of the occasion. All churches will unite in the meeting. It is urged that citizens decorate their places of business, vehicles and homes for Sunday.

Mexia Represented At Ad Men's Meet In Corsicana Today

Headed by the Mexia Elks band, a representative crowd left this morning about 10 o'clock for Corsicana, where they told Corsicana and the delegation to the Ad Men's Convention of the glories of the hub of the greatest oil field in the world.

The party from here would have been much larger but for reports that the roads werein terrible condition. It is heoped that the trip will result in the improvement immediately of the Exall Highway between Mexia and Corsicana.

The band played a number of pieces in front of the News building before the automobile party left for Corsicana.

The citizens of the city who attended wore ribbons bearing the words: "Mexia, the Hub of the Greatest Oil Field in the World" on them.

The Mexia Daily News is represented on the trip by A. Garland Adair and C. L. Tatum.

Word had been received that Corsicana was anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Mexia delegates and the citizens there have indicated their great appreciation of the co-operation of this city in making the big convention there a success.

Royalist Revolt Fails to Shake Greece.

General Metaxas, ret.

General Metaxas, of the Greek Army, at the head of 2,000 troops, has demanded the resignation of the present government, headed by Premier Gonatas. The proclamation announcing the revolution, however, failed to shake the Greek Ministry, and Metaxas is reported in flight with his followers. The revolt is characterized as a royalist move to regain power.

MEXIA MAY GET LONE STAR HIGHWAY

J. I. Riddle, Phil Karner, Ben Stollenwerck and Jerry Cason attended a Good Roads meeting held in Teague Monday afternoon. The object of the meeting was to discuss plans whereby these two cities may secure the Lone Star Highway, which is to run from St. Augustine, Florida, to the Pacific Coast. Many of the cities of this section of Texas are now much interested and enthused over this cross continent highway project and every effort will be made by all the civic organizations in the cities mentioned in an endeavor to bring the highway through here. A meeting will likely be held in Mexia soon regarding the project.

THE BASELESS FEAR OF FINANCE'S POWER

By WALTER W. HEAD
President American Bankers Association.

We speak of "coal", immediately we visualize a pile of black lumps We speak of "wheat", in our mind we picture a golden field of grain or perhaps the farmer's load en route to market

Walter W. Head

Finance is not a commodity Being an intangible thing, it is greatly misunderstood It means one thing to some people another to others

By reason of this mystery surrounding it, it is too frequently feared, and financiers assailed as enemies of the public good, using their power selfishly to advance their own purposes.

No nation or people ever achieved greatness without the assistance of finance—accumulated capital, managed and directed by those skilled in the handling of wealth and money Accumulated resources are represented at times by hoards of gold, but more frequently by ships, herds, and other productive agencies

America rich ures her resources in terms of billions of dollars. She has thousands of prosperous homes, myriads of well developed villages and towns, thousands of miles of railroads and paved roads. This has been possible through the investment and use of capital or wealth created and accumulated by the citizens.

When the early pioneers first traveled over the prairies which are now rich and productive fields, their resources consisted only of a productive soil, a healthful climate, and the sunshine and rain necessary to the growth of vegetation.

As the early settlers wrought and produced and prospered, they saved. These savings they invested in the tools of production — plows, harrows, binders, stores, railroads, banks and manufacturing enterprises. THESE SAVINGS "FINANCED" PROGRESS. The building of the railroads was the great outstanding contribution of finance to the development of the West. The West owes a debt of gratitude to the investors in eastern states who ventured to invest their money in virgin territory, making possible development by the use of their accumulated resources.

Bank deposits represent very largely the savings of the people. The loans they make possible are employed in productive enterprises. The development of the agricultural communities depends very largely upon the credits extended by investors in other communities. The development of municipalities is possible very largely through the sale of municipal bonds to investors in other places. All this is the work of finance.

A movement has been started to secure a special car for the Mexia party to the Texas and A & M Thanksgiving game at Bryan All who are interested in the Mexia car are urged to see Lawrence Hearne of the Farmers State Bank or Jerry Cason at the Southwestern Telephone Company Special rates will be given.

Jerry Cason, local Manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, is one of the Mexia party in Corsicana today.

13 States Hold Elections Today

By FRASER EDWARDS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov 6.—The curtain went up on the 1924 campaign today as the people of thirteen States went to the polls to vote in bi-elections, which were expected to develop issues that will have an important bearing on the fight for the Presidency.

Party managers were centering their interest on the contests in Maryland, New York, Kentucky, Vermont and Ohio. The Coolidge Administration figures in some of these elections Republican leaders are watching the returns from New York especially, where four members of Congress are to be elected, because of the slight majority of the G O P in the House.

Veteran politicans also will closely scrutinize the results to discover any radical trend, which many are predicting may bring about some startling upsets in politics in the next Presidential election

The wet and dry issue figures to a degree in the gubernatorial contest in Maryland, where Gov Albert C Ritchie, Democrat, and Alexander Armstrong, Republican, both have declared in favor of modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer.

Wet and Dry Issue

The prohibition issue also figures in the Vermont Senatorial election. There Porter H Dale, a dry, who resigned from the House to become the Republican candidate, is running against Park H Pollard, a Democratic cousin of President Coolidge, who is a wet. Strange as it may seem, reports reaching Washington from "rock-ribbed Republican Vermont" indicate that Pollard "has a chance"

Ernest W Gibson of Brattleboro, Republican, is opposing Barton E Bailey of Montpelier, Democrat, for the seat left vacant by Dale.

Kentucky, once a Democratic strong hold, is electing a Governor to succeed Gov. "Ed" Morrow, Republican, and party chiefs are interested in seeing whether the Bloody Hunting Ground is still debatable territory Representative William J Fields, Democrat, is opposing Charles I Dawson, Republican, Attorney General of Morrow's Administration

York Assembly will furnish a test of The annual election of the New strength for Gov "Al" Smith It is now Democratic by a slight majority and the State Senate is Republican by one vote

To Fill Vacancies

Vacancies left in the House by the deaths of Representatives Riordan, Cockran and Ganly, Democrats, and Mott, Republicans, of New York are chosen in the places of the late Reto bee filled Successors are to be resentatives Cantrill of Kentucky and John W Rainey of Illinois, both Democrats.

"Pivotal" Ohio is another center of interest. Columbus, Toledo and Akron are electing mayors. These results may furnish a straw vote for the 1924 campaign

Elections in other States are Maine a special referendum on a forty-eight hour week for women and children, Massachusetts, municipal elections, principally non-partisan; Virginia, election of the Senate and House of delegates and county officers, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Louisiana, municipal elections; Mississippi, election of all State and county officers

Texas Loan Fund Helps Students in State University

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 6.—"No capable student need to resign from the University of Texas because of lack of money, if he is willing to borrow from the Students' Memorial Loan Fund," says Alfred Ellison of Austin, treasurer of the Ex-Students' Association, who has just sumbitted a report of the fund to the trustees.

"The Students' Memorial Fund has now been in operation for four years, beginning with the session of 1919-20, and during that time a total of $45,123.25 has been loaned to 278 individual students. A total of $11,651.27 has been repaid by borrowers. Repayments for the last year have totaled $6,750.03, an increase of approximately $2,000 over the previous year. During the last year, loans amounting to $9,887.25 have been made to 65 students. For the previous year, loans amounted to $9,166.28. The rate of interest charged is six per cent.

"Many of these students have won the highest scholastic distinction possible in the University," asserts Mr. Ellison, "and with surprisingly few exceptions all the students helped have made excellent records. In each case it has been the aim of the trustees to restrict loans to those whose need of financial assistance was imperative and at least half of the loans are granted to relieve emergencies that arise during the year, where, unless financial aid was offered, the students would be forced to leave college."

NEW ORLEANS MAN PRAISES THE NEWS

The Mexia Daily News has received a letter from Jas. O. Jones of New Orleans, in which he expressed pleasure because of this newspaper having carried in a recent issue a story regarding the prospective Kosse oil field.

Among the comments of this former Limestone County citizen are the following:

"As you know it is a rare thing when one of the big companies bring in a wild cat field. Take Mexia for instance, the territory had long been condemned by the geologists for the major companies and had it not been for the faith of Col. Humphreys, this rich fund would today be undiscovered. The same can be said of Powell. I believe ultimately this fault line oil field will be a continuous field more than a hundred miles in extent, but it is so narrow that it is difficult and costly to discover. I recollect years ago in Muskogee, there was a company trying to find an oil field which was finally located southeast of the city, and they were drilling a string of wells running East and West and continued to drill these until the field was located. Of course, this is a costly experiment but if a string of wells were run East and West at Kosse, a big field would be uncovered I feel sure. With the development already done there possibly one or two wells would tell the tale."

SECRET IS SAFE

People who have been embarassed repeatedly on account of disfigured skin on their face, neck, arms and hands, caused by eczema, tetter, rash boils, pimples, etc., are nearly always sensitive about these things to the point of feeling that every body is watching them and talking about how bad they look.

They even hesitate to ask anyone's advice about getting rid of these awful things, and for this reason the wonderful Black and White Ointment is making friends by the thousands because they can get it from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanations, and use it quickly gets rid of all those skin ruiners.

The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—(Adv.)

Sorority Singers To Appear Here in First Of Lyceum

Four young college girls, with beautifully blended voices, comprise the Sorority Singers, which will give a program here on Friday, Nov. 9th at the High School Auditorium. Each member is a professional singer, and their combined voices produce a lovely effect because of the quality of tone.

Miss Estelle Van Horne is first soprano, Miss Ethel Carter second soprano, Miss Muriel Shewan first alto, Miss Frances Northam second alto and pianist.

The Sorority Singers have had a very successful season, their program having been received everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm. A group of numbers is given in strict concert style others in costume with specialties introduced, there are readings and musical monologues. A special feature of the program is a group of college sons which have been specially arranged for a quartet of women's voices.

A Bran New Gold Brick Merchant

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 6.—Mary Pickford made a mythical visit to Dallas several days ago according to a local merchant who sold her press agent an expensive order of merchandise.

An enterprising young man walked into a women's clothing establishment and represented himself as Miss Pickford's press agent. He wanted to purchase several things for the famous film star who was even then reposing in a private car in the Union Station.

He picked out the things needed and as he started to pay for them something else caught his eye. The performance was repeated several times until finally a large bill was run up. He proffered a bill in payment only to find that the account exceeded the money by several dollars.

Plainly disturbed the young man asked if they would accept a check in payment. "Yes," the merchant agreed they would be glad to accept the check, and even return the change due on the bill. They did and were ordered to deliver the clothes to Miss Pickford's private car. When they arrived at the Union Station neither Miss Pickford, Miss Pickford's private car or her affable press agent were to be found.

Fixed Principles

Some people say there is no such thing as a "fixed principle".

We maintain that the man who "saws wood and says little"—who works with his Hands and his Head—who spends a little less than he earns—who uses a good bank in every possible way is more likely to prove a success than the man who does not do these things.

We can prove that this is a winning principle at least, if not altogether a Fixed Principle.

We are anxious to back that sort of men.

Give Your Sole a Genuine Treat

You have thrown many a pair of good shoes away just becaues the soles were worn through. Perhaps the counters were out of shape, and the welts may have been "shot". Don't do it again. No matter what the condition of the shoe, if the upper is good we can rebuild it and make it almost like new. Perhaps there is a pair of shoes in your closet right this minute that need attention. Bring them to us and permit us to advise you. They may be saved, and many more weeks of wear put into them at very small expense. Be thrifty—have 'em repaired.

Ford Trucks Used To Help Rebuild Devastated Districts in Japan

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—Ford trucks will play an important part in the reconstruction of the devastated sections of Japan and in furnishing transportation for the thousands of inhabitants in the affected regions.

This is indicated by orders coming into the Ford Motor Company. The first of these was from the City of Tokio and called for 1,000 Ford one-ton truck chassis. The entire transportation system of Japan's capital city was destroyed by the earthquake and fire which followed, leaving the city helpless. In a move toward quick recovery, the municipality ordered 1,000 Ford trucks and within a short time will have a great fleet of motor busses in operation.

The Tokio order, placed with Sale & Frazer, Ltd., Ford distributors for Japan, was received October 10th. Shipments, made from New York, began at once and the final consignment went out last Wednesday, Oct. 31st.

Monthly truck orders from Japan, running usually between 400 and 500 continue to come in, further indicating the demand for the Ford truck.

The Ford assembly plant, parts stock show rooms at Yokohama were completely destroyed by the earthquake and headquarters in Tokio was damaged to a considerable extent.

A temporary assembly plant has been established in Kobe and is now in operation. Work of rebuilding the plant at Yokohama is being rushed in order to care for the needs of Ford owners in that district.

Presbytertians Plan Campaign In Behalf Of Church Facilities At Institutions Supporte dand Maintained by Texas

Announcement has been made by the executive committee in charge of the statewide Presbyterian movement for Christian education that $160,000 would be appropriated out of the campaign fund now being raised, for suitable plants and church work for the Presbyterians students attending state institutions. This includes $100,000 for building at Austin near the state university. At A. & M. College $40,000 will be used for a plant and the remainder will be used at Denton, San Marcos, Huntsville and Commerce.

Strong endorsement ofthe campaign has been given by the heads of state institutions. Dr. W. S. Sutton, acting president of the university, wrote the committee that there "is a crying need for better and more educational institutions and I hope your efforts will be crowned with success."

Similar letters have been received from R. B. Binnion, president of the State Normal at Commerce; W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. College; E. L. Marquis, president North Texas State Normal, Denton; T. M. Bralley, president College of Industrial Arts, Denton; C. L. Evans, president Southwest State Teachers' College, San Marcos.

The publicity committee for the First Presbyterian church of Mexia is anxious for the membership to study every phase of the commendable campaign and give their most hearty co-operation with the work at hand.

TIRED FEELING SURE SIGN OF TORPID LIVER

Touch Up Liver Tonight With Pepsinated Calomel—Tired Feeling and Biliousness Will Be Gone By Morning.

Nothing kicks back so quickly as a disordered liver. Pepsinated Calomel will give quick relief by thoroughly stimulating both the liver and kidneys, thus eliminating the poisons that are doing so much damage.

Calomel is recognized as practically the only medicine that will reach the liver. Others may relieve constipation, but they fail to touch the real cause of the trouble. However, ordinary calomel is so drastic in its action that many have deprived themselves of its liver cleansing power until they became acquainted with Pepsinated Calomel, which is not ordinary calomel. Because of its fine English Calomel it cleanses the liver thoroughly with no discomfort. It cannot nauseate or gripe.

Bennett's Drug Store and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. (Adv.)

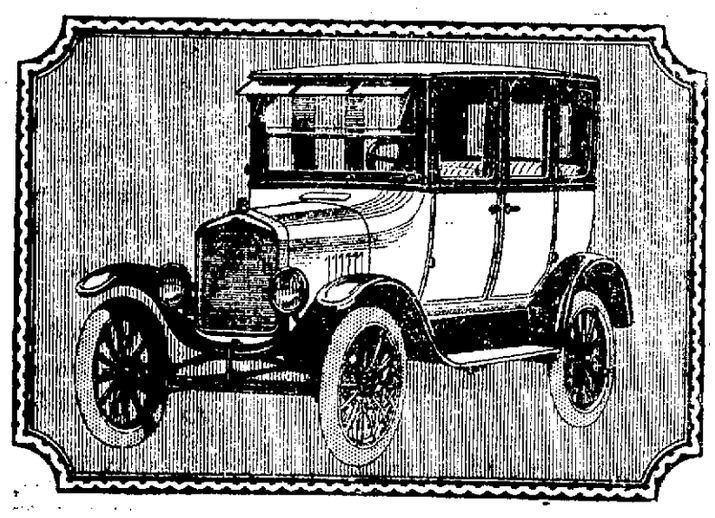
Four-Door Sedan



$685 f. o. b. Detroit, fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.

Hundreds of Jews, many wounded, fled from the city. A mad rush of refugees continued before attacks of the mob.

Simmons Faction Of Klan Charge Fox With Designs Against Several Others

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—Phillip Fox, slayer of W. S. Coburn, planned to kill all other leaders of the insurgent faction, including Emperor Simmons, authorities are informed. Dr. Johnston, of the Simmons faction, said Fox told him at Simmons' home: "You, Simmons, E. Y. Clark, and Bill Coburn, are slated to go. Johnston said when Fox drew a gun on him he backed him into a corner and disarmed him, later returning his gun.

When shots were fired in Coburn's office, office attaches rushed in and two men detained Fox until the police arrived. When Fox learned that Coburn was dead he said: "I'm glad," according to George W. Allen, one of his captors. "He was going to publish reports about me that would ruin me. If I hadn't shot him he would have ruined me." Fox told his captors.

Dr. Johnston said when Fox called at Simmons' home Simmons was not there.

Fox told Johnston he had information to tear up the Dallas Klan. Fox charged that H. K. Ramsey, imperial kligraph was "without intelligence," and was trying to "get" George K. Butcher, Dallas leader. He also launched into a tirade against Imperial Wizard Evans, according to Johnston.

Twenty Five Miners Rescued Fate of Others is Uncertain

BECKLEY, W. Va., Nov. 6.—An explosion of undetermined origin entombed more than thirty five miners in the Glen Rogers coal mine of Raleigh, Wyoming company.

Approximately seventy five men were under ground when the blast occurred. Twenty-five have been brought out unhurt. The fate of the others is in doubt.

Debris blocking the mine tunnels is hindering rescue workers.

Later: Twelve more bodies have been recovered. Grave fears are felt for the safety of the others.

Germans Plead Germans Not To Fight Themselves

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—"Germans must not fight Germans," was the plea of a Government proclamation issued Monday as growing monarchist revolutionary bands threatened civil war.

Urging all classes to unite in defense of the Republic, the Government warned that any attempt to overthrow the Republic would be rigorously suppressed.

Efforts to establish an "unconstitutional regime" would nullify efforts of outside nations to aid Germany, the appeal declared.

Mexican Floods Cost 100 Lives

PUEBLA, Mexico, Nov. 6.—Meager reports received here over crippled telegraph and telephone wires indicate that probably 100 people have lost their lives in floods in the south of Mexico.

Torrential rains caused the floods. Damage is heaviest in the Mexteca Alta region of the State of Oaxaca and the Mixteca Baja region of the State of Puebla.

Late reports indicate that some small hamlets have been entirely washed away, farms have been destroyed and many people are homeless.

Germans Reported Secretly Arming

France Objects To Crown Prince Living in Germ'y

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare has approved a suggestion of Great Britain that the allies make a joint representation to Holland to prevent former Crown Prince Frederick William from leaving Holland for Germany. Lord Crewe, the British Ambassador, communicated the suggestion to M. Poincare this afternoon.

According to a semi-official source, Lord Crewe also impressed upon M. Poincare the necessity of instructing all French officials in the Rhineland to maintain strict neutrality toward the separatists.

FOUND VICTIMS OF THE DEARBORN MASSACRE

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Skeletons of two Indians were uncovered here by workmen digging on the spot of the historic Fort Dearborn massacre.

When the excavators were about ten feet below the surface a workman's shovel struck one of the skeletons, which was first thought to be bones of some animal.

M. G. Chandler, member of the Chicago Historical Society, was called and asserted the remains were of Indians, because of the prominent bones above the cheeks and eyes, characteristic of the red man.

"The skeletons looked to have been buried for about a century," Chandler said.

That the two Indians were killed during the Fort Dearborn massacre is the opinion of Chandler.

RACCOON PIE THIEF

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y.—A group of boy campers at Eagle Lake returned to camp recently, hungry as wolves, to find that a large apple pie sent from one of their homes had disappeared.

There was, however, a plain trail of pie juice leading into the wood. Just out of the clearing the boys came upon their treasure, or what was left of it. The thief was a large raccoon, who reluctantly left the feast he had stolen, and disappeared in the brush.

INCREASE IN POPULARITY IS BRINGING FARMING BACK TO NORMALITY

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 6.—Agriculture is returning to normality through the steady increase in population and stabilizing of conditions in general, according to reports recently completed by the Institute for Research in Land Economics here, based upon statistics of agricultural production in the United States.

Agricultural production in this country has not decreased in the last decade despite the decline in the number of acres in agricultural sections of the United States, the study of land utilization shows. Only about one-half of the land is in farms and the total farm area increased only approximately 9 per cent. from 1910 to 1920, while the population increased 15 per cent. during the same period.

The increase in farm area was largely in the semi-arid States, where acres are plentiful but the productivity per acre is small. There were fewer acres in farms in 1920 than in 1910 in many of the States in the corn belt and in practically all the States east of the Mississippi. This decrease is of particular significance, the report states, because it took place in the truly agricultural States of the union.

Growth of Cities

Part of the decrease is accounted for by errors in enumeration and in the South to the failure to include woodland as a part of the farm area. The growth of cities, development of our factories, industries, mining, and the increase in highways and railroads accounted for part of it.

Part of the decline in farm area was due to the war. The high wages in industry and the men called to the colors lead to a shortage of labor which caused parts of farms to be permitted to revert to pasture or woodland and to the abandonment even of entire farms. This was a temporary change in utilization which will be righted as soon as prices for agricultural products are favorable to the expansion of agriculture, Dr. C. S. Wehrwein, who compiled the report states.

More significant is the permanent reversion of farm land to forest and brush because it was not fit for agriculture. Throughout the astern section land has gone back to a more economical use.

Examining the utilization of land within farms the census figures reveal an increase of 5.5 per cent. in the area of improved land but an increase of 36 per cent in the area of unimproved land. The increase in the area of unimproved land in acres is almost equal to the increase in all farm land. The largest increase in the area of unimproved land was in the semi-arid region, where most of the land is grazing land. Generally where farm land as a whole decreased unimproved land was also decreased. However, in twelve States where there was a decrease in all farm land, unimproved land increased. This indicates a change in utilization at the expense of improved land and woodland.

Waiting for Prices

These twelve States all lie in the corn belt and in the East. Just as some farms have reverted to forest land some fields went back to pasture or woodland and will remain there until prices of agricultural products warrant a higher utilization of them.

Woodland for the whole United States decreased by 12 per cent and was fairly general throughout the country. Where there was area decline and not a mere error of enumeration, this decrease is significant because woodland is a higher form of utilization than unimproved land.

Through the area in farm crops increased, it was at theexpense of improved pasture land and fallow land, under the spur of war conditions. The significant fact is that production has been maintained and even increased by the more intensive utilization of the better lands and a less intensive use of the poorer lands.

Sold U. S. Hospital by Alleged "Pull"

Additional sensations were created in the Senate investigation, in Washington, into the affairs of the United States Veterans' Bureau during the administration of Colonel Forbes. E. L. Morse, Republican political leader in Missouri, it was alleged, cleared nearly $100,000 on the sale of his home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., as a site for an army hospital for tubercular patients. The place had previously been rejected as unfit for hospital purposes, but alleged "pull" was exerted, according to the charges, in order that Morse might reap the benefits of the sale.

FOOTBALL LEADS IN SPORTSMANSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Sportsmanship is not confined to any particular line of activity on the field. Ethics of some sports are considered higher and are more generally respected and observed than in others.

Tennis, polo and golf, the more fashionable sports, are generally looked upon as those sports in which the competitor always grants the advantage of the doubt to his opponent.

Baseball permits judgement on only two doubts—in case of a question give the batter a hit instead of an error to the fielder and in a close decision on the bases favor the runner.

Ethics are carried to extremes in some sports. Bill Tilden, as the leader of tennis, went so far in being a sport that he tossed away a whole set in the recent Davis Cup matches to Jim Anderson because Tilden thought he had been given a break by a bad decision of a line judge.

For all around sportsmanship, for the general prevalence of "square deal" and gentlemanly conduct, collegiate football will rank with any of the popular American sports.

Little contrasts cropping out from time to time make some other sports suffer in comparison to the greatest of all college games.

Rowdy days are supposed to have passed in professional baseball, the so-called national pastime. There are few pitched battles on the field, instances of slugging under the grandstands are widely scattered since the type of players engaged in the game began to be elevated, but the spirit back of the players still carries a little of the old flavor.

"We'll cut that bird down if we get a chance," one of the Giant players said during the world's series about Babe Ruth.

Ruth, the Yankee star, had been charged by the Giants with going into the bases with his feet up. In baseball that is considered an overt act.

The Babe was not "cut down" during the series. Perhaps it was not because the chance was not afforded, because Ruth was on the bases often. It might have been that Ruth is rather large and capable with his fists and the player who resorts to "cutting down" is ordinarily not of the type that is willing "to go" in open combat.

It is not unethical in professional baseball for a competitor to take advantage of the physical weakness of an opponent. Neither is it that way in boxing. The stakes are too high in professional sports for the competitor to think of anyone but himself.

STIFF SCHEDULE JUST AHEAD OF S.M.U.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 6.—All set for the stiff Conference schedule ahead that includes three elevens over whom comparative scores give the Mustangs a slight edge but who upon the field are likely to prove something else again, Southern Methodist University's eleven took up Monday afternoon the task of getting past the next hard game at the Stadium. This is the Saturday tilt with the University of Arkansas, a team, already defeated by Baylor in the Conference, but with its formidable overhead game rated a dangerous threat against any of the contenders for the Southwestern Conference title.

After eliminating T. C. U. from this class Saturday, the Mustang stock rises considerably in view of the actual status of comparative scores. On this basis, the S. M. U. team should go through without a defeat for the local eleven beat Saturday the team that defeated Oklahoma A. & M., Baylor only tied the Aggies, a team already defeated by S. M. U., and Baylor has previously trimmed Arkansas.

Coaches Morrison and Freeland do not have to impress on their squad however, the gravity of next Saturday's game in spite of comparative scores. Arkansas did that for them last fall when they practically put S. M. U. out of the running when the dope book recorded much the same story it does today. It is true that the Razorbacks caught S. M. U. on a muddy field, but that might occur again. Besides, Arkansas is rated as a stronger eleven this season than last and here it is November when a team is likely to prove far stronger than it has in October.

S. M. S.'s showing against T. C. U. is one of the high lights of the past week, especially in the fact that the team succeeded in flashing a versatile and effective offense. T. C. U. is not a set-up. The Horned Frogs themselves have little offense but they are a stubborn defensive team and the fact that the running, plunging, and passing game of S. M. U. completely bewildered the purple squad speaks volume for the efficiency of the S. M. U. offense.

Seat sale for both the Arkansas game Saturday and the Baylor game Thanksgiving began simultaneously Dallas Monday morning at the Old Mill and Rucker Drug Stores.

Sportlights

By Jimmie

Most of the upsets in dope for games in the south last Saturday were contributed to the rain and mud, practically all of the games were fought in a drizzling rain. Perhaps the most surprising was the scoreless tie of the Vanderbilt-Mississippi A. & M. game, the Commodores outplayed the Aggies but the slippery ball proved a hodo. Alabama did something unusual by fighting the Georgia Tech Yellowjackets to a scoreless tie in Atlanta. The only score in the game between the ancient rivals Auburn and the University of Georgia was made by Day of Georgia who intercepted an Auburn pass and raced sixty-five yards for a touchdown.

The Southwestern Conference field is getting smaller and smaller with every game. The only undefeated teams in the Conference now are the Longhorns, Baylor and S. M. U. Baylor has to meet both Texas and S. M. U., if she can hold her own in these two games history will repeat itself. It looks as if S. M. U. is going to give somebody a fight for the championship.

The sons of old Eli seem to be "King of the roost" in the eastern football circles. The soldiers played a great game Saturday but Yale has determined to make this a Yale year, and it will take an almost immortal team to stop them. Harvard is in about the same kind of a boat with Texas A. & M.

Coach "Doc" Stewart will load up nine of his best basketball players on December 22, and head straight for the heart of Mexico. We hope he has as much luck in this undertaking as he has with his football team.

It has ceased to be news to read of Notre Dame victory, the only question most of us ask is "how much did they beat them?"

Don Miller is making a mighty race for an All American berth this year. He has put Notre Dame where she is at this stage of the season and that is at the tip top. In Saturday's 34 to 7 victory over Perdue, Miller scored two touchdowns, made four runs better than twenty-five yards, gained fifty yards after receiving passes and made another thirty yard run after a pass but the play was not allowed. Don Miller is not the star of one game but of every game that Notre Dame has played this year.

Syracuse mounted up on the same round of the ladder with Yale and Cornell Saturday by defeating the powerful Penn State team 10 to 0. This is Penn State's first defeat this year.

Few Folks Have Gray Hair Now

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—(Adv.)

Piles Absorbed Never to Return

After years of patient, painstaking effort on the part of a well-known doctor, a prescription has been found that will actually heal Piles and absorb them never to return.

No man or woman need suffer another hour with any discomfort, pain or soreness arising from rectal troubles—Piles—now that this wonderful prescription known as MOAVA can be obtained for a moderate price at any first-class drug store on the money-back if dissatisfied plan.

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

Simply ask your druggist for a small box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES, being careful to follow the simple directions that come in each box.—(Adv.)

Tris Speaker As A Broncho Buster

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 6.—"Texas' own" Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, is not only a good ball player but he makes a regular cowby.

"Fog Horn" Clancy, famous rodeo announcer, discovered Tris at the Rodeo show at the State Fair here last week and immediately brought him out. Tris was game and after much persuasion agreed to ride the "bucking broncho."

The boys all felt friendly to Tris and trotted out one of the "outlaws." Undaunted Tris rode him and rode him well, handing a surprise to the "pick-me-up-boys" as well as the broncho.

'QUEEN TUT' TO HAVE A NEW RUSTIC HOME

FORT WORTH, exas, Nov. 6.—The city park department is nothing if not resourceful.

They are going to build "Queen Tut," the zoo elephant a house. Now as houses go the "Queen's" shack would cost about $3,000.

But thru diligent managing and conservation of building materials they have arranged to put up a house for $750. It will be rustic in design.

RADIO RECEIVING SETS

By Harry F. Dart, E. E.

Article 2.
THREE-CIRCUIT REGENERATIVE RECEIVER

A three-circuit regenerative receiver has, as the name implies, three tuning circuits. This type of set, while somewhat harder to tune than a single-circuit regenerative receiver, has means for making it very selective Even with a fairly long antenna this feature is very effective in eliminating undesired stations under reasonable conditions.

A typical three-circuit regenerative receiver is shown in the accompanying figure. The antenna A and ground B are connected to a coil C which is used to tune the antenna circuit to approximately the wavelength of the desired signals. This coil is commonly arranged with taps to connect in the desired number of turns, and is called the primary. Sometimes a variable condenser will assist in fine tuning of this circuit if placed in series in the antenna or ground lead.

Another coil D is mounted either inside, or, as is more preferable, close to one end of coil C so as to pick up some of the energy of the primary. Coil D, called the secondary, is mounted on a rotor so that by a turning movement it is possible to vary the amount of energy picked up by the secondary coil D. In this manner the signal strength may be made as great or small as desired within reasonable limits.

The secondary coil D has a fixed number of turns. The grid circuit may be accurately tuned to the desired incoming signal by two general methods. One is by the use of a variometer E, and the other is by means of a condenser F. If either one is used the other need not be, although both may be employed. It will be found that any change produced by one may be largely compensated for by the other device. If the variometer E only is used (with condenser F and its lead wires removed from the circuit,) all of the grid circuit tuning is done by the variometer E which should have a sufficient inductance, its main property, range to cover the desired wave-length range. If it does not work satisfactorily in this respect it may help to put a 50-turn coil in series with the variometer, or to use a small fixed condenser where the variable condenser F is shown. In either case the variometer would still be the main tuning device for the grid circuit.

The tuning of the secondary, or grid, circuit also may be accomplished by a variable condenser F, with the variometer E removed from the circuit. This condenser should not be too small else it will not have a great enough capacity range to cover the desired wavelength range, neither should it be too large. For accurate work it is necessary to have a vernier adjustment on this condenser, or a separate small-capacity variable condenser may be used in parallel with the main tuning condenser.

The grid condenser G and its high-resistance grid leak of 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 ohms are the same units as are usual in regenerative sets. The three-element electron tube H with its suitable battery I, and rheostat J, is any one of the standard types now available. It should be noted that the grid return goes to the positive terminal of the A battery at J, when the detector tube is one of the high-vacuum or hard type. With a soft or gassy tube the grid return should connect with the negative end, or terminal, of the A battery.

A plate variometer K is nearly always used to tune the plate circuit to reasonance with the grid, or secondary, circuit. The plate circuit is the third circuit to tune, and when this condition obtains, there is a large feed-back of energy from the plate circuit to the grid circuit through the electrical capacity effect between the elements of the tube. This energy will then pass through the tube in the regular fashion and be further amplified or strengthened. In the operation of the set it will be noted, that, as the plate circuit is tuned to the grid circuit, the signals keep increasing in strength. When the circuits are exactly tuned, or very nearly so, the tube will oscillate and render inaudible any incoming signal. Therefore, it is desirable to increase the feed-back effect almost, but not quite to the point where oscillations start.

The telephone receivers L should be fairly good ones for best results. If a powerful broadcasting station is nearby it is entirely possible that, with any good type of regenerative receivers, the signals will be strong enough to aperate a loudspeaker fairly well. In that event the loud speaker should be connected in place of the telephone receivers. The B battery M should be about 10 to 25 volts for a soft or gassy detector tube, while 22½ to 45 volts will be necessary with the newer types of tubes. A small fixed condenser, about .01 microfarad, should be connected as shown at N to provide a path for the radio-frequency currents around the telephone receivers and B battery.

Foot Prints May Be Their Undoing

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 6.—Four plaster casts may be the mute testimony that will perhaps convict four men on charges of murder in connection with the death of Teodorma Lerma here recently.

Muddy shoes of the four men, taken from them on the day of the killing, were placed into the casts. If they fit into the footprints found near the scene of the killing, the chain of evidence against the men will be strengthened immeasurably, officers say.

Explains How Enlarged Veins Can Be Reduced

Ofen Times Veins Burst and Cause Much Suffering, Expense and Loss of Employment.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is very concentrated, and a bottle lasts a long time—that's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Ice Wago nRuns Amuck in Houston

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 6.—Three cars wrecked; several persons injured, and traffic tied up for some time,

That's what resulted when the sun got into the eyes of Azey Thomas, ice wagon pilot.

The wagon crashed into a truck, throwing the driver to the ground. The truck rammed a jitney, injuring several persons slightly.

Then it wandered on down the street, climbed the curb, and started off down the sidewalk. Pedestrains fled for safety. Finally an adventurous soul mounted the juggernaut and turned off the engine.

Mexia Represented At Ad Men's Meet In Corsicana Today

Headed by the Mexia Elks band, a representative crowd left this morning about 10 o'clock for Corsicana, where they told Corsicana and the delegation to the Ad Men's Convention of the glories of the hub of the greatest oil field in the world.

The party from here would have been much larger but for reports that the roads werein terrible condition. It is heoped that the trip will result in the improvement immediately of the Exall Highway between Mexia and Corsicana.

The band played a number of pieces in front of the News building before the automobile party left for Corsicana.

The citizens of the city who attended wore ribbons bearing the words: "Mexia, the Hub of the Greatest Oil Field in the World" on them.

The Mexia Daily News is represented on the trip by A. Garland Adair and C. L. Tatum.

Word had been received that Corsicana was anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Mexia delegates and the citizens there have indicated their great appreciation of the co-operation of this city in making the big convention there a success.

General Metaxas, of the Greek army, at the head of 2,000 troops, has demanded the resignation of the present government, headed by Premier Genatas. The proclamation announcing the revolution, however, failed to shake the Greek Ministry, and Metaxas is reported in flight with his followers. The revolt is characterized as a royalist move to regain power.

MEXIA MAY GET LONE STAR HIGHWAY

J. I. Riddle, Phil Karner, Ben Stollenwerck and Jerry Cason attended a Good Roads meeting held in Teague Monday afternoon. The object of the meeting was to discuss plans whereby these two cities may secure the Lone Star Highway, which is to run from St. Augustine, Florida, to the Pacific Coast. Many of the cities of this section of Texas are now much interested and enthused over this cross continent highway project and every effort will be made by all the civic organizations in the cities mentioned in an endeavor to bring the highway through here. A meeting will likely be held in Mexia soon regarding the project.

THE BASELESS FEAR OF FINANCE'S POWER

By WALTER W. HEAD
President American Bankers Association.

Walter W. Head

We speak of "coal"; immediately we visualize a pile of black lumps. We speak of "wheat"; in our mind we picture a golden field of grain or perhaps the farmer's load en route to market.

Finance is not a commodity. Being an intangible thing, it is greatly misunderstood. It means one thing to some people, another to others.

By reason of this mystery surrounding it, it is too frequently feared, and financiers assailed as enemies of the public good, using their power selfishly to advance their own purposes.

No nation or people ever achieved greatness without the assistance of finance,—accumulated capital, managed and directed by those skilled in the handling of wealth and money. Accumulated resources are represented at times by hoards of gold, but more frequently by ships, herds, and other productive agencies.

America measures her resources in terms of billions of dollars. She has thousands of prosperous homes, myriads of well developed villages and towns, thousands of miles of railroads and paved roads. This has been possible through the investment and use of capital or wealth created and accumulated by the citizens.

When the early pioneers first traveled over the prairies, which are now rich and productive fields, their resources consisted only of a productive soil, a healthful climate, and the sunshine and rain necessary to the growth of vegetation.

As the early settlers wrought and produced and prospered, they saved. These savings they invested in the tools of production — plows, harrows, binders, stores, railroads, banks and manufacturing enterprises. THESE SAVINGS "FINANCED" PROGRESS. The building of the railroads was the great outstanding contribution of finance to the development of the West. The West owes a debt of gratitude to the investors in eastern states who ventured to invest their money in virgin territory, making possible development by the use of their accumulated resources.

Bank deposits represent very largely the savings of the people. The loans they make possible are employed in productive enterprises. The development of the agricultural communities depends very largely upon the credits extended by investors in other communities. The development of municipalities is possible very largely through the sale of municipal bonds to investors in other places. All this is the work of finance.

A movement has been started to secure a special car for the Mexia party to the Texas and A. & M. Thanksgiving game at Bryan. All who desire to go in the Mexia car are urged to see Lawrence Hearne of the Farmers State Bank or Jerry Cason at the Southwestern Telephone Company. Special rates will be given.

—o—

Jerry Cason, local Manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, is one of the Mexia party in Corsicana today.

13 States Hold Elections Today

By FRASER EDWARDS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The curtain went up on the 1924 campaign today as the people of thirteen States went to the polls to vote in bi-elections, which were expected to develop issues that will have an important bearing on the fight for the Presidency.

Party managers were centering their interest on the contests in Maryland, New York, Kentucky, Vermont and Ohio. The Collidge Administration figures in some of these elections. Republican leaders are watching the returns from New York especially, where four members of Congress are to be elected, because of the slight majority of the G. O. P. in the House.

Veteran politicans also will closely scrutinize the results to discover any radical trend, which many are predicting may bring about some startling upsets in politics in the next Presidential election.

The wet and dry issue figures to a degree in the gubernatorial contest in Maryland, where Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, Democrat, and Alexander Armstrong, Republican, both have declared in favor of modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer.

Wet and Dry Issue

The probibition issue also figures in the Vermont Senatorial election. There Porter H. Dale, a dry, who resigned from the House to become the Republican candidate, is running against Park H. Pollard, a Democratic cousin of President Coolidge, who is a wet. Strange as it may seem, reports reaching Washington from "rock-ribbed Republican Vermont" indicate that Pollard "has a chance."

Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro, Republican, is opposing Barton E. Bailey of Montpelier, Democrat, for the seat left vacant by Dale.

Kentucky, once a Democratic strong hold, is electing a Governor to succeed Gov. "Ed" Morrow, Republican, and party chiefs are interested in seeing whether the Bloody Hunting Ground is still debatable territory. Representative William J. Fields, Democrat, is opposing Charles I. Dawson, Republican, Attorney General of Morrow's Administration.

York Assembly will furnish a test of

The annual election of the New strength for Gov. "Al" Smith. It is now Democratic by a slight majority and the State Senate is Republican by one vote.

To Fill Vacancies.

Vacancies left in the House by the deaths of Representatives Riordan, Cockran and Ganly, Democrats, and Mott, Republicans, of New York are chosen in the places of the late Rep- to bee filled. Successors are to be resentatives Cantrill of Kentucky and John W. Rainey of Illinois, both Democrats.

"Pivotal" Ohio is another center of interest. Columbus, Toledo and Akron are lecting mayors. These results may furnish a straw vote for the 1924 campaign.

Elections in other States are: Maine a special referendum on a forty-eight hour week for women and children; Massachusetts, municipal elections, principally non-partisan; Virginia, election of the Senate and House of delegates and county officers; Rhode Island, Connecticut and Louisiana, municipal elections; Mississippi, election of all State and county officers.

Puffed Grains

Steam exploded—airy, flavory

8 times normal size

Quaker Puffed Wheat and Quaker Puffed Rice are whole grains steam exploded. Over 125 million steam explosions are caused in every kernel.

The food cells are broken, so digestion is made easy and complete. The grains are puffed to airy globules, thin and flaky, with a taste like toasted nuts.

Thus whole grains are made enticing. People revel in them morning, noon and night.

They are served by the millions of mothers who want their children to eat whole-grain foods in abundance. At breakfast with cream and sugar, between meals with melted butter, at night in bowls of milk.

Whole wheat supplies 12 minerals which growing children must have. It provides their need of bran. And milk supplies the vitamines.

Here whole wheat is made a food confection, by Professor Anderson's great process. And the finest cereal dainties people ever tasted are made of rice and wheat.

Texas Loan Fund Helps Students in State University

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 6.—"No capable student need to resign from the University of Texas because of lack of money, if he is willing to borrow from the Students' Memorial Loan Fund," says Alfred Ellison of Austin, treasurer of the Ex-Students' Association, who has just sumbitted a report of the fund to the trustees.

"The Students' Memorial Fund has now been in operation for four years, beginning with the session of 1919-20, and during that time a total of $45,-123.25 has been loaned to 276 individual students. A total of $11,651.27 has been repaid by borrowers. Repayments for the last year have totaled $6,750.03, an increase of approximately $2,000 over the previous year. During the last year, loans amounting to $9,887.25 have been made to 65 students. For the previous year, loans amounted to $9,166.28. The rate of interest charged is six per cent.

"Many of these students have won the highest scholastic distinction possible in the University," asserts Mr. Ellison, "and with surprisingly few exceptions all the students helped have made excellent records. In each case it has been the aim of the trustee to restrict loans to those whose need of financial assistance was imperative and at least half of the loans are granted to relieve emergencies that arise during the year, where, unless financial aid was offered, the students would be forced to leave college."

NEW ORLEANS MAN PRAISES THE NEWS

The Mexia Daily News has received a letter from Jas. O. Jones of New Orleans, in which he expressed pleasure because of this newspaper having carried in a recent issue a story regarding the prospective Kosse oil field.

Among the comments of this former Limestone County citizen are the following:

"As you know it is a rare thing when one of the big companies bring in a wild cat field. Take Mexia for instance, the territory had long been condemned by the geologists for the major companies and had it not been for the faith of Col. Humphreys, this rich find would today be undiscovered. The same can be said of Powell. I believe ultimately this fault line oil field will be a continuous field more than a hundred miles in extent, but it is so narrow that it is difficult and costly to discover. I recollect years ago in Muskogee, there was a company trying to find an oil field which was finally located southeast of the city, and they were drilling a string of wells running East and West and continued to drill these until the field was located. Of course, this is a costly experiment but if a string of wells were run East and West at Kosse, a big field would be uncovered I feel sure. With the development already done there possibly one or two wells would tell the tale."

SECRET IS SAFE

People who have been enbarassed repeatedly on account of disfigured skin on their face, neck, arms and hands, caused by eczema, tetter, rash boils, pimples, etc., are nearly always sensitive about these things to the point of feeling that every body is watching them and talking about how bad they look.

They even hesitate to ask anyone's advice about getting rid of these awful things, and for this reason the wonderful Black and White Ointment is making friends by the thousands because they can get it from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanations, and use it quickly gets rid of all those skin ruiners.

The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.—(Adv.)

Sorority Singers To Appear Here in First Of Lyceum

Four young college girls, with beautifully blended voices, comprise the Sorority Singers, which will give a program here on Friday, Nov. 9th at the High School Auditorium. Each member is a professional singer, and their combined voices produce a lovely effect because of the quality of tone.

Miss Estelle Van Horne is first soprano, Miss Ethel Carter second soprano, Miss Muriel Shewan first alto, Miss Frances Northam second alto and pianist.

The Sorority Singers have had a very successful season, their program having been received everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm. A group of numbers is given in strict concert style others in costume with specialties introduced, there are readings and musical monologues. A special feature of the program is a group of college sons which have been specially arranged for a quartet of women's voices.

A Bran New Gold Brick Merchant

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 6.—Mary Pickford made a mythical visit to Dallas several days ago according to a local merchant who sold her press agent an expensive order of merchandise.

An enterprising young man walked into a women's clothing establishment and represented himself as Miss Pickford's press agent. He wanted to purchase several things for the famous film star who was even then reposing in a private car in the Union Station.

He picked out the things needed and as he started to pay for them something else caught his eye. The performance was repeated several times until finally a large bill was run up. He proffered a bill in payment only to find that the account exceeded the money by several dollars.

Plainly disturbed the young man asked if they would accept a check in payment. "Yes," the merchant agreed they would be glad to accept the check, and even return the change due on the bill. They did and were ordered to deliver the clothes to Miss Pickford's private car. When they arrived at the Union Station neither Miss Pickford, Miss Pickford's private car or her affable press agent were to be found.

Fixed Principles

Some people say there is no such thing as a "fixed principle".

We maintain that the man who "saws wood and says little"—who works with his Hands and his Head—who spends a little less than he earns—who uses a good bank in every possible way is more likely to prove a success than the man who does not do these things.

We can prove that this is a winning principle at least, if not altogether a Fixed Principle.

We are anxious to back that sort of men.

Give Your Sole a Genuine Treat

You have thrown many a pair of good shoes away just becaues the soles were worn through. Perhaps the counters were out of shape, and the welts may have been "shot". Don't do it again. No matter what the condition of the shoe, if the upper is good we can rebuild it and make it almost like new. Perhaps there is a pair of shoes in your closet right this minute that need attention. Bring them to us and permit us to advise you. They may be saved, and many more weeks of wear put into them at very small expense. Be thrifty—have 'em repaired.

Ford Trucks Used To Help Rebuild Devastated Districts in Japan

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—Ford trucks will play an important part in the reconstruction of the devastated sections of Japan and in furnishing transportation for the thousands of inhabitants in the affected regions.

This is indicated by orders coming into the Ford Motor Company. The first of these was from the City of Tokio and called for 1,000 Ford one-ton truck chassis. The entire transportation system of Japan's capital city was destroyed by the earthquake and fire which followed, leaving the city helpless. In a move toward quick recovery, the municipality ordered 1,000 Ford trucks and within a short time will have a great fleet of motor busses in operation.

The Tokio order, placed with Sale & Frazer, Ltd., Ford distributors for Japan, was received October 10th. Shipments, made from New York, began at once and the final consignment went out last Wednesday, Oct. 31st.

Monthly truck orders from Japan, running usually between 400 and 500 continue to come in, further indicating the demand for the Ford truck.

The Ford assembly plant, parts stock show rooms at Yokohama were completely destroyed by the earthquake and headquarters in Tokio was damaged to a considerable extent.

A temporary assembly plant has been established in Kobe and is now in operation. Work of rebuilding the plant at Yokohama is being rushed in order to care for the needs of Ford owners in that district.

Presbytertians Plan Campaign In Behalf Of Church Facilities At Institutions Supporte dand Maintained by Texas

Announcement has been made by the executive committee in charge of the statewide Presbyterian movement for Christian education that $160,000 would be appropriated out of the campaign fund now being raised, for suitable plants and church work for the Presbyterians students attending state institutions. This includes $100,000 for building at Austin near the state university. At A. & M. College $40,000 will be used for a plant and the remainder will be used at Denton, San Marcos, Huntsville and Commerce

Strong endorsement ofthe campaign has been given by the heads of state institutions. Dr. W. S. Sutton, acting president of the university, wrote the committee that there "is a crying need for better and more educational institutions and I hope your efforts will be crowned with success."

Similar letters have been received from R. B. Binnion, president of the State Normal at Commerce; W. B. Bissell, president of A. & M. College; R. L. Marquis, president North Texas State Normal, Denton; T. M. Bralley, president College of Industrial Arts, Denton; C. E. Evans, president Southwest State Teachers' College, San Marcos.

The publicity committee for the First Presbyterian church of Mexia is anxious for the membership to study every phase of the commendable campaign and give their most hearty co-operation with the work at hand.

Irving P. Holmes, Tyler baggage master, is the Texas hero.

He was awarded a bronze medal for running forty five yards along a switch track and snatching a nine year old girl from the path of running boxcars that had been shunted to the siding. He barely escaped with his life.

SILK STOCKING BURGLAR AT WORK IN CLEBURNE

CLEBURNE, Texas, Nov. 6.—A pair of blue silk stockings and a nail file are the only clues police here have to the robbery of two homes here recently.

The robberettes, as police believe it was, removed a roll of money from the trousers of the owner of one of the houses and a roll and a watch from the other.

TIRED FEELING SURE SIGN OF TORPID LIVER

Touch Up Liver Tonight With Pepsinated Calomel—Tired Feeling and Biliousness Will Be Gone By Morning.

Nothing kicks back so quickly as a disordered liver. Pepsinated Calomel will give quick relief by thoroughly stimulating both the liver and kidneys, thus eliminating the poisons that are doing so much damage.

Calomel is recognized as practically the only medicine that will reach the liver. Others may relieve constipation, but they fail to touch the real cause of the trouble. However, ordinary calomel is so drastic in its action that many have deprived themselves of its liver cleansing power until they became acquainted with Pepsinated Calomel, which is not ordinary calomel. Because of its fine English Calomel it cleanses the liver thoroughly with no discomfort. It cannot nauseate or gripe.

Bennett's Drug Store and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. (Adv.)

C. L. Tatum, advertising manager of the Mexia Daily News, telephones from Corsicana that the program being presented by Tenth District Advertisers is one of the finest he has ever heard. The delegation is having a most enjoyable time. Announcement was made at last night's session that Mexia would have a large delegation present today. This announcement was greeted by applause.

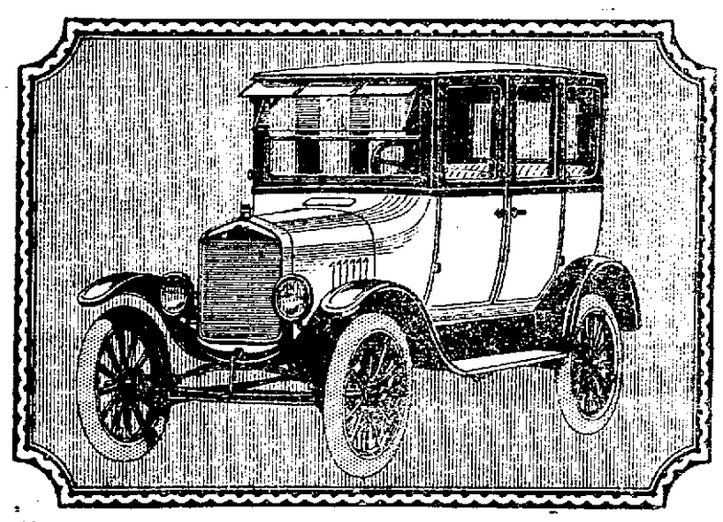
Four-Door Sedan



$685 f. o. b. Detroit, fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.
